

COMPARE THE LEADERSHIP ACADEMY TO OTHER MANAGEMENT TRAINING

- From budgeting to servant leadership, participants receive training in both business and relationship enhancement skills.
- Participants choose the tier most appropriate for their current management level. (Foundational, retaining and strategic)
- Your managers will enjoy higher job satisfaction knowing their organization is investing in their talent and skills.
- Participants who successfully complete the program will receive an official Certificate in Leadership from NICC.
- Highly engaged employees are 38 percent more likely to have above-average productivity. (Source: Workplace Research Foundation)

WHO SHOULD PARTICIPATE?

- Those already in management positions who have a need to develop formal leadership skills.
- Managers who know the business-side well and are looking to enhance their interpersonal skills.
- Managers who excel at interpersonal skills and are looking to learn more of the business-side.
- Rising stars in an organization who could benefit from leadership training before being placed in a management role.
- Managers who feel stuck in their roles and/or lack confidence in their management skills and are looking to develop themselves.
